

SHOW DESCRIPTION:

Watch Matt White and his family use cranes, skid steer loaders , wrecking balls, hammers and more to tear through abandoned structures hunting for unusual, old objects to restore on DIY Network's Operation Salvage. At the top of their wish lists are immense Victorian sandstone mantles, 19th-century porticos, tiles, huge walnut doors, antique brick and claw-foot tubs. When they can't find these, they turn raw materials into wholly new decorative items. With this family salvage business, reconstructing high-end artifacts is literally a blast.
